Young People's Christmas

The Sunday schools observed the social Christmas early in the week. On Monday night the Congregationalists had a covered dish supper at 6 o'clock, followed by an entertainment and tree.

On Tuesday evening a family supper was served at the Universalist Church, followed by exercises and a tree. The Baptists had a supper at 6:30 and the Radio Artists at Methodist Church

An opportunity to see and hear a deputation of the Dudley Radio Carollers, who broadcast from a Boston station in the Sunshine Hour each Sunday afternoon, will be given by the Dudley Methodist Church, M. E. Church, next Sunday, December 29. The programs similar to those of the Sunshine Hour consisting of music and other features will be given as follows:
Dedication of the new radio program at 10:30 a. m.
"You're People" program at 11:00 a. m.
Concert and Finale at 11:30 a. m.
Raymond Young, who has been with the Carollers for two years will preside at the organ.

Sargis Matsuakamian, a young man from Armenia, is a minister and will give the closing prayer. The Sunday afternoon meeting, Harry W. McInure will preside and act as master-of-ceremonies, bringing some of the cheerful, and inspiring messages which have made the program so popular. Those who have enjoyed the radio program of this broadcast will gladly welcome this opportunity of meeting as well as hearing members of this radio group. The local churches will unite in the afternoon and evening meetings.

Ex-governor Ralph O. Brewster of Dexter will speak under the auspices of the Women's Club of Deering Memorial M. E. Church, Monday evening, December 30, at 8 o'clock. A cordial invitation is extended to new and old Missed in hearing Mr. Brewster. Miss Musa Taylor of Portland is with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank A. Taylor, at Christmas and New Year. Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Taylor, who are teaching in Bangor, were guests of Mrs. George McGinley from Friday through Sunday. They left for West Springfield, Mass. to visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Lombard. They plan to return to South Paris before going to Bangor.

Theodore Nutting and John Chandler from the University of Maine are spending the holiday vacation at their homes. Christmas services at the churches were largely attended Sunday morning. There is special music, appropriate and tasteful decorations. An evening social service by the W. D. T. Class at the Methodist Church included singing and the Christmas story.

anted," they said. "There was a large attendance at other churches. High Morton and Philip Plummer are members from the University of Maine for many years.

Heard and Seen at Advertiser Office

We want to thank everybody who has helped us in our efforts to make this paper a better one for you.

A number of Maine 1930 auto plates have been received at the Advertiser office. The plates are of the new design and are a credit to the State.

Several of the new plates were seen in the streets. One of the plates was seen on a car driven by a man who is a regular contributor to the Advertiser.

Christmas is a white Christ. The snow is white, the snow is white, the snow is white. The snow is white, the snow is white, the snow is white.

Saco Valley United Parish

On Sunday, Christmas was observed at all points of the parish with special services conducted by the Revs. Clifford Cross and Walter Pavy. The presentation of gifts for poor folks in the parish and in the cities, was made a part of each service and clothing, food, toys and books and also money were received. Through the generosity of the Fryeburg-Lovell Kiwanis Club and some friends of the parish a box of candy and an apple is being given to every boy and girl of the parish.

Last week's community gatherings at Union Hill and Storm were postponed on account of the storm. These are to be held this week and the splendid Christmas pictures shown as well as the act, "The Modern Good Samaritan", which shows very graphically the need of medical services in the un-Christian countries of the world.

The bi-monthly meeting of the United Fryeburg on Wednesday, Jan. 1st. The Willing Workers will entertain the members of the council and visitors. All friends of the parish are asked to make a note of this date.

The young people of North Fryeburg met at the schoolhouse, Friday evening and unanimously agreed to organize a young people's society for the village, Friday, Dec. 27th, for the election of officers. Pictures were shown and games were played at the close of the meeting.

Services at North Fryeburg are now being held in the library building and this arrangement proves more convenient for the residents of the village than the church half a mile out.

NORTH NEWRY

Fred Wight has bought a pair of horses.

Fred Wight and Frank Ferren were at Berlin, N. H., Monday, the 16th.

Ray Hanson of Errol, N. H., was at Hartley house recently, and he and Mr. Hanson went to Bethel to see Lee Vail, who had a shock last Monday.

Mrs. W. B. Wight had a bad spell, Sunday night and another Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Wight went to Rumford, Monday.

Mrs. Frank Bennett has been at Bethel caring for Lee Vail.

John Vail and Frank Bennett were at Bethel, Sunday.

Ray and Roger Hanson are at home from Woodstock high for one week.

Ella and Robert Cole and Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Robinson were at Hartley Hanson's, Saturday evening.

DENMARK

Rufus Ingalls underwent an appendicitis operation in Portland on Wednesday.

Frank Pingree is at home from North Fryeburg Academy for the holidays.

Ruth Sanborn is at home from Nason Institute, Springfield, for two weeks.

Josephine Renski from Boston and Stacia Renski from Portland are expected home for Christmas Day. Stacia is working at Woolworth's.

Among the Portland Christmas visitors this week have been Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Pendexter, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Wentworth, Mrs. Hector Blake, Mrs. Emily Ingalls, Miss Hazel Ingalls, Bert Sawyer and Francis Berry.

The R. A. Trues from Casco spent the week end at L. H. Ingalls'. Barbara is staying a few days.

The tractor has been working almost steadily, day and night, all week. It was the worst storm to plow that has been witnessed.

Tuesday there was a Farm Bureau meeting at the Grange Hall on Jaeger painting. There was a good attendance.

EAST SWEDEN

Wentworth Setting Up Mill—Furnace Installed.

Leslie Nason of Harrison is boarding with Mrs. Mary Kneeland and working for Ray H. Kneeland.

The snow plow went through this part of the town, Dec. 20th, and plowed to the ground so autos can get right along.

Lee Kimball has been hauling pulpwood from his place to Norway.

Scott Wentworth is setting up his portable mill on the George Hill lot for the purpose of sawing out pine lumber.

Mr. Wentworth and family are living in the John Pike camp at Stearns Pond.

Ray Kneeland was running his mill a few days last week, getting out pine sheathing to fill orders.

The furnace at the Camp Katahdin guest house has been installed and it is expected that about thirty people will spend the holidays there.

CENTER LOVELL

Suncook Grange met in regular session, Friday evening, Dec. 20th. A baked bean and salad supper was served at 6:30 to over 40 all officers present but one.

The third and fourth degrees were conferred on two candidates. After the meeting all enjoyed a Christmas tree and the following program:

Some All
Recitations Durgin, Lewis
Rose, Theodor Durgin, Edith McAllister, Sam Ring, Ruth Kimball.

Rodolph McAllister has been helping his brother, Everett, build a garage.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert McKenney are in town. Christmas Mrs. McKenney and Mr. McKenney and Mrs. B. J. Stearns.

John McKenney spent Sunday with his sister, Ina Stearns, at West Lovell.

Susie Wilson has a new electric radio. Louise Allen has been working for Mrs. Roger Eastman.

HARRISON

Objections raised by Mrs. Mark Twitchell of Berlin, N. H., and A. W. Weston of Harrison, to the allowance of the will of Mae Chase, who died in Portland last February, were given hearing Thursday afternoon by Judge Carroll S. Chapin of the Probate Court. The contestants, consisting of the testatrix held that Miss Chase was very ill and under the influence of drugs when she made out her will, and therefore before her death and was, therefore, incapacitated. They were represented by Charles J. Nichols, while the chief beneficiary under the will, William A. McPherson of Portland, had as counsel Fred J. Laughlin and Charles E. Gurney.

MY OWN HOME TOWN

Christmas Remembrance from Mary D. Garmer of Kezar Falls, who has served as correspondent for this paper more years than any other one on the staff. It is a nice picture in heavy golden black frame and under glass. It fortunately withstood the perilous parcel post journey to our office.

It is properly inserted on the back and hangs on the office wall with other miscellaneous artistic decorations. I do not pine for a South Sea Isle. Where a tropic sun shines all the while. And they shake their food from trees; Where ease makes body and brains grow fat. And the urge of life is in a place like that. I could not live in a place like that. Give me my own Home Town. I do not live where I know the folks. And the folks in turn know me; Where all the gang knows each other's jokes. And people are neighborly; Where weather will sometimes make you guess. And the skies may sometimes frown; And the sun may shine and push and kindness— Give me my Own Home Town.

OTISFIELD

Spurr's Corner and Vicinity

The severe ice storm has done much damage to us in this place. The electric light lines were out of commission as late as Monday this week with much work still to be done. The telephone lines are crossed with no service through East Otisfield central due to poles down and broken wires. A limb on one of the elms near Lawrence Spillers' fell through a window, breaking the entire window and frame. The birch trees are bent to the ground and across the roads, making travel nearly impossible in places.

The electric tractor and snow plough arrived Monday of this week with much work to be done. Fred Pierce spent several days in Portland on business last week.

Lee Hoyt has been spending several days with Curtis Adams at North Bridgton.

Mrs. Stella McAllister and son, Connie, and Mrs. Helen Mitchell spent the week end in Portland.

The school here closed Thursday as it was unsafe for travel, Friday.

Frank Shadley is still at the O. M. G. Hospital and does not gain as fast as his friends wish him to.

Ed. Pride of Bridgton is doing mason work for Harry Miliken at the mill.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Spiller, B. H. Dyer and Mrs. Ruth Curtis were in Portland, Thursday.

Harry Austin of Harrison is boarding at Kenneth Proctor's and working in the mill.

Harry Smith of Welchville is boarding at J. M. Meserve's and is driving team for Harry Miliken.

Eugene Edwards, Mrs. Ruth Adams and Phineas Curtis were in Bridgton, Thursday.

LOVELL

Storm Caused Damage—Charles Moved into Bailey House—Stockbridge Bought True Place.

Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year to all.

The late storm did lots of damage to telephone and electric light lines. A large limb fell on the wires at E. N. Davis' and broke the pipe and pulled electric wires from the house, also a large limb falling from the elms broke the wires from Mrs. Trish's house and when the wires broke it frightened them and the neighbors very badly as fire lighted the houses and street very brightly.

Life Witham took Doris Stearns, Mary Watson and Ella Davis to Portland, Tuesday, shopping.

Carl Nevers has been suffering badly with his jaw. He had a tooth extracted and took cold.

C. E. Littlefield is cutting pine for James Plummer.

F. C. and E. N. Davis are having some of their pine cut on Smarts Hill. Chas. Davis and Harold Watson are cutting it. Harry Charles is doing the hauling.

Weston P. Moore is boarding at Bert Stone's, also Stephen Kimball.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Charles of North Fryeburg have moved into the A. S. Bailey house for the winter.

There was an Xmas tree at the village church, Tuesday evening.

John Bell is suffering with rheumatism. His wife has returned from Portland hospital, where she has been for treatment for her eyes.

Mrs. A. Evelyn Stone is at Fryeburg with her daughter, Mrs. Myron Kimball for a few weeks.

Miss Charlotte Hobbs is very much improved in health.

Everone is cutting and hauling their wood.

Mr. and Mrs. Dennie Stockbridge of Melrose, Mass., have bought the house formerly owned by D. W. Trus.

Cordwell Account Book of 1824-30 Sheds Light of That Day

An account book kept by William Cordwell of Norway from 1824-30 sheds considerable light on the fads and fashions of the inhabitants. Mr. Cordwell was a latter by trade, but mended kettles, oiled wagons and harnesses, sheared sheep and proved to be a general handy man in the settlement.

His place was on the site of the Locke store on Main street known as the lower Cloverdale Store. His shop was in the rear of the house with a barn and cow yard on the knoll where Norway High school is located. In those days all land in that vicinity was pasture and woods.

He had a son, Dennis Cordwell, who resided at the farm for many years and died there. His son, Royal Cordwell married Cora McAllister and they kept the homestead until a number of years ago, when the property was sold to T. Ed. McAllister, who resides there. Mr. Royal and Mrs. Royal Cordwell and their son, Roy, and family bought the John Bumpus farm on the southerly side of Pike Hill (Robert Noyes place). Royal has passed away but his widow and son are there and conduct a milk route in the village. Roy is the great grandson of William, whose account book is treasured by Dennis Pike.

The volume now 104 years old, contains 92 pages, showing some 140 accounts. As a latter he catered not only to men in the hamlet, but his services in manufacturing "stove pipes" extended abroad. Among the names prominent in the early history of Norway are Capt. John Rust, Robert Frost, Isaac Kinsley, Stephen Greenleaf, Joseph York, Stephen Robinson, Benj. Tucker, Samuel Pike, Ebenezer Hobbs, Aaron Shackley, Nathan Foster, Asa Noyes, Col. Amos Towne, William Hobbs and fully a hundred more equally well known. David Bolster, an early settler in the Bolster Neighborhood at Paris, was a customer.

Reading between the lines on the book is the fact that Mr. Cordwell was a town necessity. Tall hats were stylish and a symbol of distinction. A pretty good hat was made to order for $2.00.

Prices were $3.00 and Capt. John Rust, gentleman, and somewhat of a magnate, paid from $5.00 to $7.50 for his head piece. Hats were made to last in those days, customers returned to have the hat "knapped," or made fuzzy after long wear. A charge of restoring the original appearance was $4.00. Caps of lamb skins were fashionable and a necessity for winter. The hatmaker bought many such pelts and sold the fleece.

The records tell us that on Dec. 9, 1824, Susan Rust purchased a bonnet for $4.00, giving in part payment nearly 3 pounds of wool and 2 pounds of feathers. She received credit of $1.50.

As this was the latter day, customers exchanged numerous commodities. The "going prices" in 1824 were about as follows: wheat, $1 bu; corn, 50c bu; hay, $8.00 ton; cheese 7c lb; eggs 10c dozen; butter, 25c lb; turpentine, 50c bu; oiler, 82c bbl. One item of interest was the purchase of three "mushrat" skins for 25c each and two for 16c.

"Sovereign of the Snow Trail." What is it? Why? It is easy: A Tubbs-Made-Snow-Shoe. Made in Norway, Maine, U. S. A. That is all!

COMMUNITY PROGRESS

While Norway has much to boast of as it considers past achievements, it would be sheer folly at this stage of its community development to rest content with past laurels and cease striving for further advancement.

Norway's present high standing among centers of equal population has been won by foresight and aggressive policies in the past. This generation should be just as eager to secure an enviable future for the community as were those men of former generations who often fought a stiff up-hill fight to gain those things upon which the town's present prestige rests.

Never before in its history has Norway been in such a good position to go forward in rapid and substantial development as right now. It has all its prime attractions plus many relatively recent acquisitions.

But to do the things that must be done if the community is to progress along desirable lines of commercial, industrial and residential expansion and betterment, there must be no diminution of that spirit of co-operation and willing effort on the part of a considerable number of citizens which has been manifested in all its past accomplishments. And just as men and women of vision and civic consciousness have always been available in the past, so will they come to the service of the community in future hours of need.

Roger Milton of Andover was a week end visitor of his sister, Mrs. H. K. Stowell.

Mr. and Mrs. H. K. Stowell were in Andover, Saturday night.

The schools closed last Friday for a week's vacation. They had exercises and trees in their rooms. Miss Helen Andrews, teacher of the Finhook School, had a Christmas tree and exercises.

The comedy drama, "Down in Maine" was played by the young people of West Paris at the Grange Hall, Thursday. On going to bed traveling, there was not a very large audience. The drama was very good and each one took their part to perfection. The West Paris Orchestra furnished music. There were songs between the acts and a dance after the drama.

Mrs. Earl Felt of Norway spent Sunday night with her cousin, Mrs. Inez Whitman.

Rev. A. K. Fillmore is spending Christmas in Boston.

The Christmas tree and cantata was held at the Grange Hall, Tuesday night, Dec. 24th. Mrs. Gertrude Redman had charge of the exercises. There was singing by the children and the choir. There was a good sized audience considering the big storm of the day before and the exercises were fine.

BATES—WEST PARIS
The Union Christmas service last Sunday evening at the Universalist Church was very pretty and impressive. The story, "When the China Bells Rang" was very clearly and understandingly read by Eileen Pratt, while a company of young people presented the pageant parts and a chorus choir sang the old Xmas carols in the appropriate places.

Tuesday evening the Universalist Sunday School held their Christmas supper, tree and entertainment in Good Will Hall and the United Parish Sunday School held their Christmas tree and stereopticon pictures with carols, after which Santa Claus appeared and helped distribute the presents. Later a chorus of young people sang carols on the streets to shut-ins, sick people and lonely people.

Geraldine Crawford had the misfortune to break one of her wrists, sliding, Monday afternoon.

Mrs. L. B. Harris and Mr. and Mrs. Frank G. Peck of Lewiston visited Mrs. Laura Houghton, Dec. 15.

SOUTH RUMFORD
Mr. and Mrs. George Kimball entertained a whist party for the benefit of the Community Club at their home at Rumford Center, Thursday evening of last week. Five tables were at play and tokens for high score were given Mr. and Mrs. Earl Spaulding, while consolation awards were made to Mrs. George Elliott and Donald Thurston.

Marshall Cameron was very ill several days recently, with a severe attack of indigestion.

Mr. and Mrs. Willard A. Wyman, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Moore and little daughter, of Virginia, were guests of Mr. Moore's mother, Mrs. Chas. Simpson, and her husband, at East Bethel, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Homer Frost and family were surprised, Saturday evening of last week, when many of their South Rumford friends gathered at their home at Harleymela Farm for a farewell party. Mr. Frost, who is a traveling salesman for Purina Products, was at home for the week end and expected "a quiet evening" not knowing that his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Channing Frost, had sent out word for the party. Cards were enjoyed and refreshments served. Mr. Frost and family are moving to Skowhegan the last of the month.

Christmas Observance—Holiday Guests in Town.

"Thanks be unto God for His unspeakable Gift" was the minister's text Christmas Sunday, he was ably seconded by the choir, which was thoroughly imbued with the Christmas Spirit, every piece they sang being full of an exalted fervor. So, "A Song in the Air" by Margaret Chellis, was well received and "Praises of Great Joy" anthem by the choir was very noticeable.

In the evening the auditorium was comfortably filled, the cantata, "His Natal Day" being the attraction. Its opening was prayer by Mr. Callaghan, followed by the singing of the "Bells of Christmas" by the forty voices which had been under the direction and drilling of Mrs. Walter Carpenter for the last three or four weeks until it resolved itself under her ministrations into a beautiful, effective and impressive song picture portraying the principal events of the Saviour's birth. As the echo of the last note died away, an attendant presented Mrs. Walter Carpenter with a lovely bouquet and the audience who had been spellbound, was given permission to clap their hands in applause. Mr. Callaghan, himself, leading the way and assured them that many a city church would be thankful if they had such talent as had just been displayed.

Herbert Elliott, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Elliott, has come from Bar Harbor to be the guest of his parents over Christmas.

Mildred Stanley from the Eastman School of Music, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Orman L. Stanley, is home for the Christmas holidays.

Dr. F. G. Devereux and wife were Christmas guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Garner.

Kezar Falls has been ice bound, our last storm being particularly hard on trees and shrubs. Even the pine trees which rarely bend their head were all pointing one way and many a tree has had to be cut down to keep it away from the wires and the tops of shrubbery are bent over and frozen to the ground.

Harsh criticism does not always help to right a wrong, whereas if a few kind words, tactfully mixed with well-meant criticism, is delivered, the results are apt to be quicker and better.
